Who are We?

In our endeavors to regain our full potentials and capacity as a human on this planet, there are certain stages we are to go through.

The most prominent one is to change our mind-set about what a human is and what our reality is. And that alone is enough work for a lifetime, and has been for many humans over time, having sought the answers to who and what they were, and why they were here.

Now, in our work, we cannot escape the existential questions or let go of the fact that we, as humans, exist in a world of energies and causes, which all lead to effects. But the energetic angle does not answer who we are, and why we are here.

“Who are we?” renders the search for answers, of which most strands in either scientific or religious models of understanding, and neither are prudent or get us closer to the higher leveled answers, which should, by the given answer, push us into a cascade of higher awareness and growth towards our full potentials, using this body, its energies and its brain and heart, to their full capacity.

So why is it that we cannot get the answers to this question?

Why is it that an existential and logical question ends up in scientific mumbo jumbo, seeing the body as a clockwork, or religious nonsense?

And why is it that if there are given answers, they are conflicted or subjective, and not stand as one solid truth, in its own energy to be tapped into, aligned with and developed from?

That should get us started. Begin questioning all your known concepts, throw them out and begin anew.

Beginning with the Beginning

We are here. That is a fact. Or is it? Well, it would appear, that we are here and that we exist in this world as manifested forms in a manifest world. Which to a certain extent is correct.

However, if we look deeper into that understanding, we must acknowledge the fact that the manifested is energy. A bit frozen and stiff, one might add, but still energy and that, that energy, to its very core is mostly empty space. Or that is what science tells us.

So, what is it? Empty space or solid forms? And how can solid forms arise from empty space¹? A mystery in itself. But what if that space in fact is not empty but consists of layers and layers of other types of energies? Then the empty space, measured by our primitive equipment, is suddenly not so empty. It is only because science does not operate with multilayered energy², yet.

Okay. In that, let us forget normal science. They only got bits and pieces of the whole picture anyways.

Now, we are not jumping onboard the old spiritual teachings with the astral and mental planes here. That is not the goal of this book since these models are equally outdated. We are not going to follow up on the quantum sciences either, because that is just a minor part of the greater picture. No, we must think above and beyond what we have learned. It is time for a brain twist and new exercises for the brain muscles to make the good old dura mater³ go to work. It has been dormant long enough, to such a degree that the blood flows of the brain almost have scrimped into a minimal use, and in that has

³ https://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Dura_mater

downsized the energy flow of the brain.⁴ The brain of most humans are to a vast degree dead flaccid matter.

Hey! This is where you come in and add the hey. “Do not be offensive!” Well, it is a fact. And if the brain works, it only consumes energy from the frequency bands and not from the multilayered energies our world is composed of, as it was supposed to work with too. For now, the brain is an empty space consumption machine.

So, hey back, what are we to do about that?

Well for starters, you stop consuming dead matter such as meat, fish, poultry, call it whatever you like and processed food from the stores. Eating death is the same as consuming decay and that does not help the brain or the body to energize and get up to speed. On the contrary. The diet of humanity today is dead, without any real energy and based upon giving a stuffed feeling in the gut. Yeah, yeah. I get it. Science tells you that you get proteins and ALL that you need from meat and the food in the stores put there to generate a marked and subsequently income, feeding the consumer-money machine. Of course, science says so, being brain dead as they are and consumers of meat too.

Hey! “Don’t be offensive”. Sorry. I cannot help it. Anyways it lightens up the text and makes a point. Dead brains cannot think brilliant thoughts and as you know, the blind leads the blind into the grave, literally. Therefore, enough with the listening to the clever voices not really using their capacity either and back to re-inventing all that you know.

Again. The brain is supposed to work with multilayered energy. Not just frequencies. These are the basis, for the basic functions of the body, keeping the cells in order using repulsion and retraction. And to get the frequencies to the point, where they can work in a higher speed, you have to eat food that has living energy such as fruits and vegetables. Oh dear, oh dear. Yes, you are to become a vegetarian, fruitarian or vegan all depending on body type and genetic composition – no, not blood type. That can be altered in a heartbeat with the correct instruments, which of course we do not have in the human world yet; only in the other worlds that are part of our reality. Blood types are inconsequential and an effect of the frequency band used by the cells in the body, which for most part is engineered to perform in a certain way, of which the blood type plays a role. Ups. Slipped there and forgot the order of things, taking you slowly into a new system of thought, getting all ahead of myself.

So, high energy food with lots of vitamins, minerals and proteins.⁵ And not processed, unless you process it yourself. Raw, natural and uncooked is of course the best way to eat, unless the vegetable can only be eaten if cooked but then perhaps another more eatable type is to prefer? Nature is engineered to provide food that is eatable and what is too much hassle is typically for the animals and not humans.

That should give a good foundation for the body and brain to work in a better way.

In the beginning, there were the green food made for humans and the green food made for animals. And both were given to ensure that all had the nourishment they needed to exist. That was the beginning. After the other worlds had been engineered of course, with all that they held of advanced technology, higher developed humans and races from other universes, coming here to experiment.

Thus, on the first day, in the outer worlds, the humans saw that green food was good, and that they had to become vegetarians, fruitarians and vegans, living peacefully side by side with the animals living in harmony of the wealth the world, they lived in, provided to them.

And on the second day, there were no more killings, no more violence and no more pain. And all was good.

⁵ Examples of high energy foods. Personally, I am not much of a bean, lentil etc eater. http://www.huffingtonpost.ca/2015/04/06/foods-for-energy_n_6995848.html

Higher and Lower Order

Well, humans are humans, right? With all their weird ways of thinking and feeling, which, by the way, are unnatural to most otherworldly systems and generates nothing but chaos (distortion energy) on the inside and the outside of the human vessel. And how did that happen in an engineered world with little to no chances of chaos or disorder?

That is the good question, we are to ask ourselves. How did a well-orchestrated experiment end in that type of human capacity, we have today?

Of course, sequences of unfortunate events. That is enough to answer the question. There are always the ones that want something else than the majority and they always screw things up. As above so below and so with the advanced races running the things out here. End of story. And no, no no, no fallen angels here and no heaven. And definitely no god or gods. Let us not get into these old stories made up by humans not knowing better AFTER they lost their brain capacity and multilayered knowledge from the other systems, they used to be part of.

I prefer our new beginning here. We have ordered things into no killing, and living in harmony becoming green food eaters. That is the first step each and one of us can take. Living in peaceful co-existence with the other lifeforms here.

And no, no drugs, alcohol, opiates, DMT, peyote, ayahuasca, cannabis, etc or cigarettes. That destroys the ability to access multilayered energy too no matter what the uses of these things have of experiences. All these people do is to hallucinate aka access the cellular distortion layers and deep core levels of the brain by altering the frequencies of perception using the mind-altering drug. The brain is multilayered in its structure and it stores images, and that is what is accessed. Not secondary realities, outer or inner for that matter. Or, you could call it the subconscious but of course, where is that placed? In the brain of course, in the layers of the brain, being a storing unit of energy, information and impulses aka images and sound, which fires up when the brain area is activated. So, humans and what they see is controlled by their brains. Inner and outer, and what has no order in the normal frequency bands are pushed into deeper layers of the brain, becoming the subconscious. A little too simple but it will do. There is a higher and lower order of information in the brain and all are run by frequencies, as things are now. Day time settings and night time settings, using different areas of the brain and in that produces different inner perception and images. Differently ordered information. The same idea is found in the multilayered realities; they work in the same way as higher and lower ordered systems of information.

Hmm, this is where you say: “Yes, I have heard about multilayered and densities and that other lifeforms exist there.” Now, let us add a bit to it; multilayered are ordered systems of energy and information. I would like us to cut loose the idea of multilayered. It is too restricted and is based upon systems of thought that is not beneficial for our new beginning, starting anew.

Okay. Our reality is ordered in systems of energy and information of a lower and higher order.

Sorry, I know too technical but the information and the ordered systems are kind of important to understand who you are. Does that not make you curious? That you have a higher and lower ordered systems in which your brain operates and assist you in your self-understanding, inner perception and the vast access, you have in your brain to the hidden knowledge of this system, and beyond, giving you the answers of who you are?

Then you ask: “Who am I. Tell me.”

You are energy and consciousness ordered in higher and lower systems of information matching outer and inner higher and lower systems of information, called multilayered worlds, or pockets.

And this is where you yearn and say: “Seriously? Is that all you can come up with? It’s like saying we are strawberries or something stupid. It gives no meaning.” But it does. And it broadens your perception of what you are, taking you away from the limited and frozen-in ideas of matter and forms.

The Systems

In experimental science with energy, it has been discovered that energy units called atoms (full of empty space) unfold from outer to inner, where the inner levels of energy are of a higher order - as in more energized and less dense - than the energies on the outside. The energies on the outside, are of the lower order, which are less energized and dense. Lower order thus means less energized or with less potentials and less information, whereas higher order energy is more energized, holds more potentials and thus more information.

Our outer body is a low order system. On the outside because on the inside, when we go in and in, it becomes a high order system and only the brain and the heart, with their capacity to work with high order information and energy, can detect and perceive that. So, a lesser working brain and heart only sense the lesser order and the few information layers of our reality, whereas a higher working brain and heart sense the higher order and the vast information our reality holds; on the inside.

The multilayered realities are not just perceived out there. They are also perceived in there. Higher order systems are unfolded into less dense energy settings and with higher potential information. It is the empty space. The inner empty space of an atom. Not the empty space of the universe, because the universe is far from empty. It only appears so from the lower order of things, using the lower order frequency bands and information layers of the brain. All lower order things, beings, atoms, DNA, technology and so forth are multilayered and have a higher order hidden in a higher ordered system, perceived from the inside. Thus, all information and energy in the higher order is non-local; it permeates through all lower ordered systems affecting them from inside and out.

The Monad, the Dyad & the Triad

The soul, the soul, the soul.⁶ That is always in the minds of the people I talk to and the way, they perceive the higher ordered systems as if the only thing that exist in the higher ordered realities are souls. This assumption is one of the most masterly created false information layers humans struggle with in this work. The worst part is that they do not acknowledge how conceptualized they are in that assumption, working with the concept of Souls and Source. I am not belittling you here. But the idea just pops up without further consideration when people begin to work with inner information. Well, the double S is a totally hivemind set up, where energy systems are linked up to one big entity, getting energy from the lower parts, and into which all the parts return when they are done burning off their energy and consciousness in the triadic forms inside the artificial and program controlled realities under the Source. So, people, could we please get the real soul get on the stage, make a proper introduction and leave the false one in the wardrobe?

Triad means three in Greek, Dyad means two and monad means one. In that there is consciousness, which is the monadic level and no, not Source or god. Please drop that thought right there. There is no god. God, as a concept, is someone you invented, or humans did. The monadic plane is a state of existence. Or plain and simple; existence. And existence is consciousness.

Consciousness is all there is and all there is, is such a high ordered system that it permeates through all systems, ordered in high and low, which means that the monadic plane is everywhere, and yes, it is in you because that is your consciousness units. Now, most humans today have little high order energy to fuel up the higher ordered system in them, holding the consciousness units and they use the lowest ordered system called mind, frequencies and cellular impulses, aka brain waves unfolding the imprinted and indoctrinated belief systems and knowledge they have got from sources such as parents, school, sciences, media etc.

Therefore, humans in our world, have little to none awareness of real consciousness and little to none awareness of the highest ordered system that reside in them, hidden in layers of their internal energy system. The old question where is god, is simple: god is in you, god is you, god is part of you. You are source, and you are the source of all creation in you and around you. So, with that in place, god and source can now leave the stage too, go to their crafts and leave our world for good, with all their technology, programs and hivemind set up.

Consciousness units need energy to express existence.

Consciousness alone is existence but without expression, and in that consciousness alone, in the monadic state, is not existence but the potentials of existence. With that in place, consciousness units are potential existence, which in touch with energy (waves, units or as fields) become existence, expressed through energy as waves, units or fields.

Now, when did energy come on to the stage? Good question. When did consciousness? Nobody knows. These two forms of potential existence (consciousness) and expressed existence (energy) have always been around, in this universe, in other universes and otherworldly parallel systems. They are the foundation of all there is in all universes, inhabited or non-inhabited.

You can travel to a non-habited universe, which never has had one single human or alien living there and potential existence (consciousness) and expressed existence (energy) will be there as if someone created a zillion universes, ready to inhabit lifeforms in advance, and yes, yes someone did a very long time ago. These races are so old and come from a previous cycle of potential existence and expressed existence of an even higher and older order, and they inhabited universes that came from even older universes and races of an even older and higher order, and so on. It goes into infinity and there is no beginning and no ending to the infinite universes and the ones that sprouts out of potential existence (consciousness) and expressed existence (energy).

The only thing we do know is that potential existence and expressed existence work through universes and their developmental cycles, which hold a sort of coding, called principles. The principles are the laws and rules of the potential existence (consciousness units) and expressed existence (energy), which can be unfolded in that universe and thus all universes hold their own set of rules and laws to be followed for all races living there. This is the reason why we travel to new universes to learn to handle the potentials, the energy there and the principles, these are expressed through.

The dyad is formed of potential existence (consciousness units) and expressed existence (energy as waves, units or fields). When the first dyads arose, nobody knows because the dyadic energy system was engineered a very long time too by some very advance races, knowing how to build in potential existence and expressed energy, using what is called code sheets. Code sheets are fields of light language, all matching the system, the code sheets were made in. Hence there are multiple code sheets, multilayers as with everything else, in the dyad as well as its potential energy units, waves and fields to unfold the sequences of the code sheets into existence, aka a triad.

A dyad is something you add more into, when you are in your triadic form, aka engineered vessel to be able to exist in the chosen universe, and its principles. You need a vessel to learn to master the principles of the place, you exist in, and when you master the principles of a system, or a universe, you work with the expressed energy and from that the consciousness units in your dyad grows, expands and multiply, expressing more and more consciousness potentials into form using first units, then waves and finally as fields.

And the more you have travelled around, taking on new triadic forms by your own free will and in systems of your liking, the stronger and bigger the dyad becomes until one day it is as big as a star.

When that happens, the dyad can choose to go into even larger universes, where humans are as big as stars, working with the extreme high ordered systems or divide into several minor dyads, becoming the origin of these, expressing itself into multiple universes at the same time, mastering potential consciousness and energy there. It is all cycles of different forms of existence.

The consciousness units are expressed as potentials and as developed and unfolded using units, waves or fields.

The developed consciousness is expressed via the holographic-organic genetics carrying the memories of other systems and what the higher order system has recorded there, through the forms and vessels it has had. The full functional brain and its field unfolds this, when it has learned to access the multilayered realities of our system.

The energy system carries potential energy from this universe and the utilized and expressed energy from other universes. The full functional heart, and its units, waves and fields, unfolds this, when it has learned to access the multilayered realities of our system.

The expressed form is the conglomerate of all of this, and the tool to add more energy to the existing energy system and consciousness units, waves and fields.

The Monad, Dyad & Triad – all are part of you and in you.

Well, it does not take a sharp mind to figure out that this natural ordered system, i.e. the human body with its lower, middle and higher ordered systems has been blocked, tampered with and is not functioning today and that tampering goes with manipulation of the code sheets and the less activated state this leads to in the expressed form aka the human body.

Fortunately for us, the otherworldly races that preferred us in this downsized state are on their way home, have left us or are gone, and therefore, people, it is time that we undo the tampering, the blocking technology – some put by ourselves btw or ended there, due to wars in other systems before coming here - and the inserted whatever in our energy system, the multilayered composed of units, waves and fields and cleanse out all that is put there and that does not belong there.

Unfortunately for us, most of our reality is part of communities of otherworldly races of which we still need to learn to communicate with, handle and gain our place in the higher and lower ordered worlds, we are living in. These races are called the remaining, or colonizing races and they have lived here, as long as we have, in other worlds or pockets of ordered system right next to us. They are our neighbors and co-existing races here, and we are to get acquainted with them as the “veil of manipulation and blocking” lifts in us.⁷

Hence

- Stop just using your mind – begin using your consciousness and multilayered awareness by recreating your brain and create the brain field to be able to go beyond just using frequencies, into which the consciousness units can unfold as units, waves and finally as fields.
- Stop just using your emotions – begin using your energy system and multilayered awareness by recreating your heart to be able to go beyond just using frequencies and create the heart field, into which the code sheets can unfold their information.
- Stop just using your body – begin using your prominent tool aka the human body made of energy and information to explore, create and develop new layers to your lower and higher ordered systems following the laws and rules of this world.

⁷ The lifting is not done by other races but as we remove the blocking technology, get our energy system back up and running and in that get access to our consciousness.

A New Perception of Things

We are not a coincidence but we are not created either or part of a sort of intelligent design by some creator or the like. The first races that existed in this universe were self-created. They engineered their vessel with the purpose of existing here and all races after them.

Vessel engineering is a normal thing among all human races and otherworldly races in any system, from ours to the other parallel higher and lower ordered systems of energy and consciousness.

Genetic modulation and engineering are normal too.

Procreation is in most systems done by producing an information field into which code sheets are built up, generating the genetic expression aka the building blocks from which the organic form unfolds, using field sciences.

Field sciences are done by sequences of information using the energy settings of the reality, as in gathering the energies into a field, controlled by a sequence of patterns, aka symbols. These symbols are light language and differ from race to race.

Into these fields are inserted the holographic-organic genetics⁸ which are either of a higher order and less dense, more energetic and contains higher degree information (consciousness) or of a lower order, lower energetic state and hence are expressed as being more organic, or in solidified form. Realities are built in the same way using field sciences. Reality construction do not use holographic-organic genetics - which are able to express the consciousness units and in that express the higher or lower forms of information - but only the use of energies and light language, generating a car, a tree or a house. Our reality has been, over the last 50 years, recreated and is now fully expressing field sciences.

Code sequence

The manifestation field is can connect to genetics but mostly they express the code sequences upholding and coding the field.

We are led to believe all new technology run on GPS and wireless control systems. That is not true.

Most new cars today are built from other-worldly technology and expresses the field science into what we call a car.

<http://www.computerworld.com/article/3149575/apple-ios/google-like-apple-will-build-a-car-os-not-a-car.html>

The same field science is used in nature, foods, etc and can be seen from the higher ordered level, they are placed into.

Now, I think it is time to take a talk with the group of Greys, known as the Curators, which are working with the otherworldly races to produce and re-engineer our reality. They have got the jurisdiction of the lowered ordered system, our physical world is, and the maintenance of this.

The best way to go about this is to ask questions because that is when I get the best answers. In terms of working with the other races here from the parallel systems, asking the correct questions is the very important, because only if asked directly and correctly are these races obligated to answer in the same manner. Otherwise they will choose the version of the information, they see fit to the ordered system addressing them. In other words, they scan your activated state of consciousness, and if you have little, they will tell you what can grasp.

Hence, to get information about our reality, the questioner must have an equal high level of understanding too.

The vessel of the Curators, in our reality, is mainly what we call android. It's a semi-organic vessel and the brain of the vessel is linked up to the inserted genetics, or controlled from a holographic-organic human in another pocket of our reality.

Organic genetics reflects the level of knowledge they have stored. Thus, genetics among all higher ordered races are not as in our world based upon electromagnetic energy but on consciousness and higher or lower ordered energy, expressing this knowledge base into an organic form.

The Curators, among many other races of our system, have lost the ability to generate full organic forms and are thus using the semi-organic android form instead as their vessel. Naturally all answers are given using my knowledge base (stored information in my brain) and language. The conversation is telepathic.

Question (Q): Is our current version of world built upon a template as in the understanding of a code sheet with light language, we see in other systems?

Answer (A): Negative. This world is constructed of a grid structure, where all higher and lower ordered energy units are functional and operational in their own rights. This setup enables the grid to multiply its energy level as the inhabitants enhance their energy level by using their genetic composition.

Q: Is the grid square and angular?

A: Negative. The grid is multilayered and stretches in all directions of space, without limitations. This means that this reality field grows with the expansion of the consciousness base of its races, and regress or declines, with the lack of knowledge, generating the current reality with its limitations. The energy lines of the grid are the code streams (timelines), and are foundation of the performed level of existence in this reality field, generating different functionality of the higher or lower ordered energy.⁹

Q: Has our genetic composition been limited by purpose to ensure a limited energy system from the current level of existence?

A: Negative. The current vessel is a construction too, chosen to unfold the current type of genetic composition.

Q: So, the current vessel is a conglomerate of genetics, ready to be ignited by the different code streams?

A: Correct.

Q: Are you part of the Zeta program set up?

A: Negative. Old system configuration, outdated and non-functional.

Q: Who are the new system races?

A: Races from all over the parallel systems having come this way to rebuild this universe and activate the ancient forms of genetics into new races.

⁹ In other words; what you access and work with in your mind and heart, in their higher or lower forms of energy, will determine if your world is part of the expansion worlds (progression) or the retractions worlds (regression).

Q: Are these races benevolent in our understanding of the word?

A: Negative. In your perception of the word, they are not. In terms of higher ordered systems, they are. In terms of lower chaotic systems, they are not. Its relative, and for whom. In terms of preserving your current understanding of life and ways of living, they are a threat since their presence will change your world, and complete the change they began a long time ago.

Q: Are they part of the Negative Alien Agenda and the Zetas?

A: Negative. They come from many parallel systems that have grown out of the first races. They have altered their genetic composition and in that are not directly descendants to the first races but they are compatible and thus can exist here. They are terraformers and colonizers of ancient worlds, unfolding these into their understanding of higher ordered systems.

Q: Is the best way we can control our own future to use the genetic bridges, where we recreate the light structure, code steams and genetic composition to pull us, using the laws of affinity, to ensure our own progression here?

A: Correct. Developing the higher ordered genetic composition and getting rid of the lower ordered energies and genetics will achieve this as well as recreating the higher ordered energy system of own choice and in that insert the needed light language and code sheets to ensure the expression wanted.

Q: Can we do that?

A: Correct. As long it follows the laws of the higher ordered systems.

A Telepathic Talk with A Pleiadian

I was contacted telepathically, November 2016, by a Pleiadian human being stored in one of the now destroyed military facilities. She was in the process of evaporating due to a too long cryonic state. As a last attempt to complete her work here, she shared her consciousness genetics with me. She was able to do so due to genetics affinity between her origin and mine. This led to a boost of my own memories as well as gave grounds for new information, which I am sharing here.

Her information is not complete and I was not able to receive all of her genetics due to dissimilar composition. She speaks through my developed mind-field and the understanding I had at the time, adding new concepts to the existing field of knowledge; however, her infusion led to an amplified process, awakening me more.

Who am I talking to?

From the genetics, you integrated from me, I am able to speak through your consciousness field using your code layer and in this your knowledge field. We came from another world (parallel galaxy even though that is incorrect since there are no galaxies) to assist your reality a long time ago, but was caught up by circumstances leading to our demise and captivation in the end of the 1980's. Our only chance to continue an existence was through the genetic transfer into your consciousness field, becoming part of that. As a race, we exist in many worlds and have participated in many evolutionary cycles.

Should I have integrated more?

No, I chose to stay and become part of you to ensure that at least some part of our work here would be completed. Letting the rest go was correct, so they could return to the collective consciousness field of all creations.

Tell me about our reality, our planet and solar system?

Your system is composed of multiple factors called holographic animated segments. This means that your reality is artificial and not a real world as the other older worlds, which are part of your system.

Mainly your planet is a reconstruction of an older one, where races existed and died out and to complete the evolutionary scheme of your cycle, you and other races recreated it into a sort of semi-holographic world with partly real energy units and partly artificial or holographic. The reality is partly original and partly reconstructed. Into this reality, you divided the reality into segments among the races participating as an attempt to reconstruct according to your abilities and knowledge skills using the setup of simulated run through, also called timeline possibilities (today I call these code streams). Some of you succeeded well, whereas others regressed and took back the old habits of the old planet, which did not make it due to different stages of distortion of the energetic code fields. As such you all participated in your reality, the ones from the previous systems and the ones from the world that did not make it, and as such you all saw yourself as the progenitors of your world.

Is there a first universe with the internal strife (used in my books)?

No, that one is a replacement of your memories to a higher and more perfect world. In fact, it is the division that took place in the 3rd world of yours and what led to the creation of your current world setting - not a "divine layer".

Is there a god or source?

That is per definition a contradiction, since there is no beginning and no end. If you ask for an eternal creator or some principle with the power to initiate a universe, then the answer is as such yes and no. Yes, because there are higher powers that can create and instigate universes and no because there is no sole principle that does this. All creation is a joint effort by the races that exists on the different levels of reality.

Who are these different races on the different layers of reality?

Most races originate from previous races. When it all began is still a mystery to most of us. If we trace as far back as we can in the chiasm of the first races (the full overview of a races past, present and future) we end up in universes that reached even further back and into a sort of eternity of things, where the energy and consciousness gets more and more complex and impenetrable. For us it is not the origin that matters most but if and how we can develop our race potentials to the highest version of this world.

Tell me more about this world?

This world is a condensation of various forces and energies, called codes. In our setup of our worlds, we have used various experiences from the previous races and their experiences. We have transferred genetics from the races that came before us from the central collective field of genetics as well as pulled forth energetic codes from other systems as well. The universes are vast and stretch far beyond the perimeters of your solar system into an infinity of levels of creation. On some levels, the worlds are engineered and on others they are a transfer of what was before changed into a sort of world that fits the current intention of the wished making. In other words, we make our own worlds as an extension of our being, or genetic composition; always in a joint effort between the races that chooses to participate in that world. Just as you did your current world to begin with.

Why are we not actively conscious?

The long and difficult history of your race is hard to put into simple terms. In many ways, you are a failed race system and a failed world. Parts of your world are developing according to the plans and ideas you had with your world and others have failed tremendously. We came in to assist the humans that upheld the original intention and in that got caught up by the remaining races here that did not. As the races that did not play by the rules grew stronger, they decided to accumulate your genetics in areas, they could control. From that level of control, you were reassessed into a slightly different version of your original one, and slowly you forgot who and what you are.

Where we reengineered?

No, you were more likely drowded down into oblivion. Alteration of genetic composition is easy in systems where ingestion is needed. You were poisoned into your current state by ingesting targeted fluids with the ability to alter the genetic code system of your composition fields and this is still happening to this day.

When did they begin to do this?

The full scope of the drown drowsing began some 2,500 years ago in the worlds that existed before this current one; that is where you as a combined race lived in the settings you refer to as the colonies.

The timeline event (also used in my books)?

A blast of a nearby black hole a long time ago, long before your part of the worlds came to be. However, there are echoes of it in your energy code field and these distortions play a pivotal role in what went wrong in the 3rd world and its evolutionary scheme.

The regression and infection?

Your understanding of the distortion layers in the energy code field which arose from the world before yours in parts of the races here. These races chose to develop these distortions, stemming from the “timeline event” and experiment on them to see what they could turn into. An experiment that led to a disastrous demise of a whole world.

The history we know of today?

False implanted information in the code layer of your reality creating a false perception of ancient history and archaeology. That program was implemented in the late 1800’s.

The astral and mental planes?

Distortion fields of your code layer as the result of your incapacitated state.

How do we get out of the incapacitated state?

Re-engineering of what you eat and ingest by code alteration before ingesting. Acknowledge the code layer (code sequence) in all that is in your reality and from that reset to the original code layer of your race.

The stellar and galactic races?

As such a type of illusion you all have created to give words to something you cannot remember. Most of your information, and the rest of the dream-like information you struggle with are part of your own genetics, arising as you fight your way out of the incapacitated state. That goes for all of you in the awakening process; that you fight the genetic memories and creations done in the distorted state and the interaction you have had with the code fields of these, creating further distortions.

The Holographic Energy System?

A human being or any being is composed of the particle, code and consciousness layers and these interact in a merged form, which cannot be divided or set aside in forms and systems. It is a unified field of the three forms of energy, where the consciousness affects the codes, which then determines the particles and their manifestation abilities. It's a sort of instant reaction to "thought" or intention.

Do we need repair our three fields in our current forms?

You need to restore the code layer. That is the one that have been manipulated and destroyed.

The distortion layer must go deep?

Yes, you are fighting your creations and memories in your drowsed state, replaying internally the events that led to your current state, and in this creating collective distortions amplifying the collective code field, which you are all connected to.

How do we clean up this mess?

By remembering.

Why didn't you help us more when you were here (they came in, in the 1980's)?

We couldn't. The moment we entered the secluded areas, we got drowsed down like you. Only the races using the android forms are able to work and assist inside your current world settings.

What are we – souls?

No, we are all races of consciousness units, energy (codes) and forms. All of this as part of the ongoing evolutions that have taken place over eternity from the first complex triads to the current forms in less dense and complex versions. As far as we know the triads will then develop into other combinations – sometimes only as consciousness units, other times as consciousness and codes and at other times as consciousness and forms. The “what and why” is as such not so important but the understanding of the dynamics and progression, which you also work with.

The tampered code layer?

A lot of experiments have been done to your code layer as well as your particle forms from the races here. They have technologies that controls every birth, the code layer and the genetic composition of the form. In this the consciousness layers get mixed up and has even more difficult to restore the code layer and take control of the form it is connected to (consciousness layer transfers with the code layer and genetic composition of the form, hence alterations in the genetic level of the form, links up to specific code layers and from that pulls in the consciousness layer or attracts it from other forms in your system – i.e. “soul transfer”)

How do people wake up?

Realizing that food, water and air are the polluting agent and that you need to re-code all you ingest is the first step. Air, and when you are out can be avoided by generating a code field around you which protects you from the tiny agents in the air. Learn to keep that code field up at all times; in your home, cars and when you go out.

How can people see the code layer?

By adjusting the energy flows of the pituitary and pineal glands as well as awakening the sight of codes by altering their code layers and in this the particle layer and what it can and cannot do. Focus your restoring on the code layer and the DNA layer and their reconnection to alignment.

How do they integrate this?

In energy work, after they have restored the code layer, it is possible to pull the code layer into the particle awareness by instructions that is received from the particle awareness itself; as in what it needs to be adjusted through the brain and glands. You will know when you get it right.

This information is still very important and gives a lot of hints to the work, we are to do.

There is still manipulation going on with the foods etc. but this is from the angle of keeping us in a state of controlled activation. Thus, we need to learn to re-code the things we ingest before eating, drinking etc.

We clear out the Curator sequences, and the field it creates around our food and drinks, and then we re-code it by using hands (self-healing) and intention.

The intention should be that this food and drink will benefit our energy system, and it's physical expression, to assist us in our work to achieve the highest potential progression rate, in this world. The same intention goes with all our energy work.

An Assisting Race

Information received January 2017 from one of the incoming races primarily working in Australia. They have for now less potential energy unfolded here due to changes of the racial set up here. But they are working with their “segment” of the Australian population and I have had great learning processes, working with them since January 2017. Some of the processes were pretty hard. Awakening, and the cleansing that must be done to achieve that, is hard and painful work for most of the old races here.

It is our intention to assist and support your natural evolution in an environment to your liking. We have observed from a distance the tribulations you, as a race are in, and we are here to offer our assistance in the ways we see fit for your evolutionary stage. In these concerns, we might come to disputes of the nature of solutions, we see as the best and the ones, you think is the best for you and we are willing to learn from you, as you learn from us.

Our main goal is to restore our sector. As with your system, we must face the issues that lurk in the entire cosmos and the upcoming tribulations for all of us being in this ancient level of existence. We have, as many of the other races in this sector, tried to find solutions to the decay and the loss of genetics in this world – both the organic and the consciousness type – but have not found any profound and continuously solution to this yet. And thus, we have looked your way, finding your cradle of life system useful despite of its downfall and distressful situation.

We found interesting features in your set up, on the original level, which we want to learn more about and perhaps replicate into our own system.

However, there are also many features in your system which we find overly primitive, chaotic, useless and totally unacceptable. We acknowledge the fact that you have been ruled by races with another purpose and we acknowledge the fact that you might find our intervening to be just as unfair and service to self as the ones that are leaving your system, by their own free will and by need. There is not more for them to work with here and their time is up to circle out into other realities and continue their learning process there.

All systems have a cycle that must be followed and the cycle of change and renewal is at hand for your system. Thus, the old races had to leave and with that, openings were made and we took the opportunity to position ourselves as the new guardians of this cradle of life since it obviously is not ruled or overlooked by its natural inhabitants.

We see no harm in this since it is normal procedure to give over a system to the ones that are most fit to take care of it and progress it further. And as for the sector, as a whole, it is in the interest of all remaining races that this cradle of life is revived and secured as a natural recourse of genetics for the other races that once came from this level or have regressed back into it.

It is our intention to create a harmonious society with less chaos and more order.

It is our intention to provide you with developmental schemes from which you can progress back into your natural capacity as a race.

It is our intention to set up progression rates for you that suit your abilities and type of organic genetics.

It is our intention to restore and regenerate your reality, although some of the prevailing methods employed are not of our liking, but since we are collaborating with the remaining factions of an older genealogy, we respect their choice of solutions to clean up the environmental mess and overpopulation problem you have in your system. The overuse of organic forms is not sustainable for the system as a whole, and unless that is taken care of in a high rated pace your system will break down even before its lifeforms are restored. We are aware of the other issues in your system and to ensure that our project will succeed we have generated supportive energy fields to sustain your world. We have implemented new technology into the energy fields and are now in the process of full reconstruction of your worlds.

We are negotiating with the races around the world as an invitation to become part of this new reality, we wish to create, also seen in the light of the upcoming tribulations your world is to face in the years to come. There are still several scenarios in play for the changes to come to follow the lift of the changing cycle of your system, and nothing is truly decided yet. That is up to the remaining races to decide and their allies, which as us, have chosen to come in and try to make a difference – some for better and some for worse.

As the rules for focused energy also apply for us we will not focus on these misdemeanors but on the project, we are investing ourselves into.

As with all the other races being part of this system, we cannot directly interact with your world since it is too low vibrant and polluted for us; however, we can communicate through chosen measurements of which some are using technology and others are through capable humans with the skills to discern and interpret in a correct manner to our information.

We are offering you progression abilities to your liking to follow your developmental progression. We assess your abilities and from that have created micro managed field insertions to assist you to your awakening. We wish no harm with these controlled adjustments but from our perspective, you as a race, are in a more depleted and dire state than many of the other similar systems in our sector and thus we have chosen the stand of taking full control of you for now until you can manage your progression rate in a better and more productive way. As a race, you have been bred to be self-destructive, non-trusting, fearful and indecisive. You are insecure of your inner knowledge and you focus all your attention on unimportant energetic creations, put there to entertain you and keep you focused on an outer reality instead of your own progression, which your vessel was set up to facilitate.

We have certain points of interest with your progression, as with all the other races that are coming in due to the cyclic changes.

All terms of the individual progression can be debated and negotiated. We wish no direct oppression but we wish to be clear that we have our rules of engagement, rules of progression and limitations to what we perceive as the correct path of development and we will ensure that these rules are honored. It will be good for your race to learn mutual respect again between higher developed races and lesser developed races and in that earn your place in the overall evolution of our sector.

As a race, you have much to learn and we will, to the best of our abilities, teach you the ways of the races as they have developed in your scheme over the span of time, you have been excluded from these. We see it as an honor to get this evolution back on track and re-integrate you as a species in the communities of higher developed races. We wish to revive your original knowledge you had as a race a long time ago and in that, we focus on the specimens of your race that hold the highest rate of original organic genetics.

Our project is to secure, develop and progress these valuable genetics for the greater good of the races of our sector. Your cradle of life, and its special original program, is of high value to all of us and we wish to ensure that it will remain an ark for all of us and in that the scientific goals are the most important to sustain and keep the cradle intact, and so with its lifeforms.

In worst case scenario if you as a species cannot develop on your own, we will ensure that you will. Nevertheless, for now we prefer a collaborative approach with the ones that are ready and for the others that are not ready to communicate with us yet, we will provide controlled developmental schemes and information so that they can grow into the new awareness on their own terms, and in their own pace.

We cannot afford any of the mistakes that your programming is destined to lead to, and our goal is first and foremost to take out the emotional stress and negative programming you suffer from. Those of you that cannot be adjusted to a harmonic level will be sent to specific areas of the continent where you will do no harm and affect no one. The rest of you will learn to live and thrive in orderly communities, i.e. cities, where you will learn to collaborate, adjust, accept and behave in an orderly fashion as we do in the rest of the worlds outside of your system. This will appall many of you being accustomed to do whatever you like, overlooking the hurt you inflict on others. That must come to an end.

In the original program, you implemented a code called the Ka-Le-Ka code. This code amplifies the heart field into a new type of holographic-organic genetics which can expedite genetic progression in a faster rate. We wish to revive the original intent of that code and re-activate it into your hearts and minds with the purpose of creating a race that is as close to the original human race of this system as possible. In that many changes must be made and many adjustments have to be done, which again will create disturbance of your usual way of perceiving things.

We will do the best we can to make the changes to the emotional and energetic set up as smooth as possible and many of you, which are either a direct descendant or carry the genetic lineage to the first races, will be the first to undergo the restoring and resetting energetically, emotionally and physically.

In this much of your old pain is to be brought to the surface to free you heart field from the pollution and distortion codes that were put there over the decades. The freeing will be gentle to ensure a smooth transition. Our goal is to upgrade as quickly as possible for the first races of the new reality, we wish to unfold here and in this the basic ground rules will be taught with the intention of sharing information and technologies with the ones that are ready.

The ones that are not, and never will be, will not receive the same level of attention or information. Thus, our offering is that the more you accept and accommodate to our suggestions, the looser the restrictions will be. We know, again, that this will offend your human mind, animalistic and selfish as it is, however, progression cannot unfold unless there is order and harmony. War, disruptive thought patterns, emotional unrest bring all energies closer to the zones of distortion none of us wish to interfere with. Since your system is on the brink of bordering these areas stronger control must be unfolded to ensure that our project of a continued humanity, in this cradle, can become a success.

We apologize for the terms and in this the mere fact that a project like this, with that level of control, is not in full agreements with the natural laws of our sector. However, due to the restrictions of time and the dire state your system is in, excuses have been made from the higher collaborative councils overseeing our sector to go in and do this kind of micro and macro management of a system.

And besides, your race has not been sovereign for a very long time and thus we are not taking away something but in fact are adding back your sovereignty by controlled progression. Of course, the free will and sovereignty will be replaced when humanity as a whole, as well as when individual specimens show improvement and the correct collaborative will to support and sustain the project of this system.

Our main goal is to make the restored original humanity of this cradle our equals and from that continue the overall evolution of our scheme as it was supposed to from the beginning. In this we will revive many of the original sciences and the interesting programs your race created to begin with there.

Q&As to this chapter

Where do you come from?

We come from a parallel system where realities are orderly and non-chaotic. In these realities, we develop our capacity using the natural laws or rules of our system. In the capacity of our nature, we have no physical forms as you understand it but have arranged for our triadic structure to be purely energetic and in the process of transmuting energy to consciousness.

When did you come into our system?

We entered your reality field using bridging technology from our parallel system and into yours some, in your time, three months ago, but we have been monitoring your system for quite some time due to the upcoming cyclic changes, which were destined to unfold now. We have been in contact with humans prior to this to ensure the correct entrance point energetically and consciously.

Are you what we could call a benevolent race?

We are neither or. We bring order to chaos and do that in a neutral way. We are not polarized and thus have no function as either saviors or oppressors. We are bringers of order and restoring of systems that have gone into a dysfunctional down-spin and negative progression rate. We come in, in times where the cycle changes allow this. We also judge by the rules of the reality field, we are entering and we do this to bring order to a system so that it can regain its original structure to benefit the greater good of the rest of the scheme a system is connected to. All systems are interconnected and if the rules or laws of a system are not upheld, the entire scheme can be thrown into chaos and this is where we come in.

The First Modification Rules

We have adjusted the progression settings for this continent. The old version of it as it was played out by the other races, now gone.

As you think and feel as you do, uncensored and without any concerns other than your own perception of the matter at hand, you produce huge amounts of distortion energies, which affect your reality in a negative and regressive way, pulling down the energies around you. Since this is a flaw, as humanity has developed into what it is today, we have adjusted the energetic collective out-balancing features of the settings into an individual adjustment process, where the energies the individual specimen produce are gathered in the mind-field and aura connected to that specimen and not shared with the collective field of humans.

In this the self-produced harmful energies, will be absorbed and contained within the energy field of the specimen and not as part of the collective community.

In this the individual human oversees his or her energetic destiny as either part of the new reality with higher awareness and energetic lifts, where the cleansed and controlled mind-field and aura are permeable, high energetic and adaptable to the collective changes.

Or the individual human will continue the contamination and pollution of his or her energy fields and in that, take themselves out. Energetic affinity will be at play here since we have created zones of different types of energy within the settings of your reality, which fit the energetic state of the specimen.

As we have indicated; the more you play along with the main settings of expedited progression and returning to the true setup for the races of this system, the easier it will be and communication, assistance and teachings will be provided to you to ensure your continued growth according to our project here.

Of course, the opposite will apply for the ones that do not play by the rules and continue their old path of regression. This goes for all races and nations present in this system.

The Mind-field and the Emotional Field aka the Distortion Fields

My note: the distortion fields prevent the higher ordered energy system and holographic-organic genetics from being expressed into this human form.

Therefore, the basic ground rules of the original races must be revived to ensure that your energy systems restore according to the original coding of the program.

There are three main rules to be observed and followed

- 1) The natural one: do to others what you want them to do to you. With this come empathy and the ability to “step into the shoes of the other human” and from that angle understand, feel and perceive how your actions affect others. With the basic understanding of how your actions, emotions, thought forms, as an energetic creation of physical energy, emotional energy and mental energy affects the energy field of another person, you will learn the rules of reciprocity; i.e. what you send out will return to you.

And with the adjustments of the settings of your reality, this old rule will be enforced since the mind-field and aura have equally been modified and sealed off from others as well as collectively, to only contain the energies of the individual human, which means that all emotions, thought forms and action potentials (the implementation of the emotions and thoughts forms into action) will be gathered in the individual fields and never be sent out and absorbed by the other fields. For now, the energies that you produce will bounce off inside your own field and amplify your mind-field and aura in the way you have sent out or intended the energies. This rule was implemented on the shift into 2017 with full effect from July 2017.

- 2) The second rule is to oblige to the service programs we offer. In these we try to emplace you in community service of the new reality, where we chose the function of your everyday life and the skills you can add to this, with the intent of shifting all levels of this reality into the new awareness and functionality as a world suitable for the original races of this system. The adjustment to the original intent is a slow process and naturally upgrades must be made. However, since the original races were highly scientific and highly creational the original humanity and their worlds were more sophisticated than the worlds we have today.

Therefore, we wish to restore and revive the original genetics and their consciousness so that we all can learn from this. Much ancient science and knowledge have been lost in this sector and only if we all recreate and this knowledge, can the progression continue. Thus, the huge interest in restoring your system from the many factions in this sector and their attempt to come in and take over what the old races have left behind.

In the community service, new areas of work will surface as we integrate the old understanding of how to work with the program into the minds of those who are ready. The transfer to new areas of expertise will happen in steps and new systems of understanding will be provided along the way to the ones that are ready to follow the ideas of the greater good for this project; to revive the original consciousness and organic forms of this reality.

3) Thirdly we wish to create an emotional collaborative environment of politeness and acceptability amongst your race. In your interaction with others the acceptance and openness to see the best qualities in the other person, is the foremost important way to interact with others. In this you amplify the goodness and potentials the other person carries, or has got integrated via our modifications. Only if these abilities are acknowledged and seen by another person can they be activated and enforced as a reality.

In this we wish to create relationships that have this as their main focus; to ensure the growth of the other person as well as the growth of harmonious and positive energies in the field of the individual.

In the relationships, be it family settings or just one-on-one relationships of all kinds and forms, the seclusion of the mind-field and aura will be opened up and merge as intended with the Ka-Le-Ka code to begin with. The amplification of the potentials in another human from the heart field of a caring and loving standpoint will expedite the growth of both parties in the merged field. Thus, as with the original reality here, family units, communities and relationships are of great importance and how these units can support each other to grow and progress faster. We will direct you to these groups, persons and communities with the purpose of amplifying your growth as we see it fit to unfold from our understanding and knowledge of the type of genetics you have and can unfold.

Our programs for personal development are highly monitored until you have learned to remain, on your own, in the harmonious set up of your organic and consciousness type of genetics unfolding these to their highest potentials within the original code structure of the program.

In this you will learn what to amplify and what not to focus on due to the collapse of the joint field, you create as a team, or the growth of your energetic potentials when you create correctly following the amplified energies of your joint effort to ensure a harmonious and caring environment for all implicated.

Q&As to this chapter

What is a rule or a law?

A rule or a law is an energetic feature within a system that defines how that energy will act and react to interaction with consciousness. If consciousness is of this or that variety, then the laws on that level of the reality will respond in this or that way, according to the type of genetics in question. Hence the genetics determine what law or rule that will be energetically unfolded when a certain action is taken. In this understanding, not two individuals are under the same rules or laws unless they are identical in genetic composition, which is rare.

In this it is applied that the rule of energetic interaction for one individual is dissimilar from the rule of another, all depending on age and complexity of the dyadic structure obtained through various systems and schemes, undergoing exploration and development through different integration processes as part of a triadic structure.

How do we figure out the rules for our progression?

We will assist you with this in the emplacement of the three main rules we have set up for your race. The individual quirks and details will surface with the work using the three main rules, i.e. the nuances of how to work with energy under the three main rules will define the results and from that, through observation, the individual rules can be detected.

The individual rules are based upon skills to be developed in the attempt to master the energies of this system under the three main rules as well as deficiencies in the progression rate stemming from the overall dyadic progression and the plan of that dyad and what it wants to achieve. The dyad will seek the rules of the current system, which will surface the lacks and nuances, it wants to develop further.

The Community Rules

In the rebuilding of a new reality many adjustments must be made. To begin with our focus has been on getting order in the various areas under the former military control. In this we collaborate with sub-factions of the military, aka the secret organizations that are thriving inside this reality under the clans and remaining races.

Since most of the old races have left, we are now in the process of transforming the old bases and their energetic structures as well as laboratories with new technology and less invasive modification techniques.

Most of the secret military programs, which were instigated in the 1950's, have now been upgraded and transformed into more efficient and humane ways of genetic amplification and growth potentials. What they left of human experiments have been taken over and we are now in the process of seeing what can be salvaged and what must go. The ramifications of the old construction of this world are not to our liking and the inhumane ways of genetically modifications used on the specimens under these developmental programs.

More modern ways have been implemented and in this there is no need to the intrusive and invasive organic modifications that have taken place here in Australia and other places in the world.

In our modification and alteration setup the genetic composition can be worked with energetically in the home of the specimen. We will let our presence be felt and the knowledge of an upgrade since we do not want to violate the free will, so to speak. Although it is not acceptable to decline for now, we are still willing to openly let you know that modifications are being done.

In these modifications, we remove unfortunate genetic structures as well as emotional and mental features that are counteracting our goals here. From these levels of modifications more clarity will arise and in this it is up to you to follow the community rules as listed above. We will modify up to three times and if the adjustment is not implemented freely and willingly by that, further modifications will cease and in this the mind-field and aura will be sealed off, gathering the negative and polluted effects of the rigid emotional and mental structure. You could call this a self-adjusting program.

We do not wish to act as a sort of parental source being there for you as you learn to grow and follow the new settings. We will help the ones that are eager to help themselves and who understands what is expected in our program.

In your daily community service to the greater good, i.e. the main program of the new reality to develop the original races of this system, we will amplify your deeds by flows of energy when you are participating with the correct intent and mind-set. It's a sort of energetic feed back to your creations and projects. The projects that are in line with the main program will be amplified and assisted whereas creations that are not in line with the new set up, will meet resistance and decay.

In this many of you must change your source of income and the function, you have right now. For those of you that have to let go of your current occupation will feel this as a tribulation, as strife and loss of income. We are not doing this to make you feel pain or anger but to show you the correct use of the energies of your organic form, your mental and emotional capacity as well as teaching you how to work correctly with the original progression.

All creations and projects have to be instigated from a level of the greater good and the transformation of this world into a new world of harmonious collaboration, with a focus on only creating projects that sustains the growth of the reality as a whole. Unneeded functions will cease to exist or be automated as in done by technology and not by humans. For some this will seem inhumane and fear of a transhuman world will lurk in the vicinity of this, but we ensure you that this use of technology is not to turn you into partial robots or artificial entities as seen in some of the areas in our sector. On the contrary, we want to implement the original technology of your system and in the transition period we will make use of the existing technology left behind by the other races and the military.

As you grow into your new community settings and take up your new abilities, new innovations will arise and from that the ancient technologies can resurface from their hiding.

Operators of these technologies are already in the training of how to work with this equipment and so is the revival of the original scientists that created the technology and their use in this world.

The use of energy in the daily work is part of the re-programming. Creations in life are not just about manifesting physical objects; it's more about learning to micro manage the flows of energy and how to work with them. In the daily work, obstacles show up from an inner perspective or perception of an outer event that have surfaced. In this you are being taught an energetic lesson as in how to react and respond energetically to this challenge, in a manner that generates positive amplifying energy for all involved and ways to amplify the progression rate of others.

For the forerunners, this will entail showing the higher awareness in all actions and the implications this have on human affairs and perceptions. The ones that choose to do the restoring under our supervision, and with our programs, will choose to leave behind all known interaction, perception and ideas of induced behavior amplifying a new way of being human.

These signature humans will set the example of the new humanity and the ones that succeed will give grounds of the next generations of humans. Their genetics will be replicated and modified to the new energies and in this become the ancestors of the new human race in the future. We are for now inviting the ones we find fit to become the first ancestors of the new human race to our project and in this, modifications are offered as well.

Community service and arranged relationships – from friendships to family settings - will be part of this and will be offered before entrance into the main project. To a certain extent, we will accept existing relationships and family settings in so far, they accommodate to the genetic and energetic affinity of the first races and their function here. If exiting connections cannot upgrade and modify to the choice of the invited, we will allow the organic form to enter but under restrictions and with a sealed off aura and mind-field.

The First Modification

When entering the main program, as in coming to Australia or accepting our offer off-land or being part of the old systems in-land, modifications are done to the organic form as well as the mind-field and aura.

These modifications are done on an organic genetic level as well as on the overlay genetic, which were put there to be able to work on the higher levels of the old settings under the other races. In this we remove the distortion codes from the overlay and organic genetics as well as unwanted alien, for this system, genetic compositions. This is the first transition process.

We adjust the gene codes to fit the new reality set up of the program and in this give the incentive to work more thoroughly with the modifications. A feeling of peace is offered and in this the ability to accept the new ways becomes easier. For some, this ease will be felt as if Australia is their true home and this will lead to the wish of staying here. That type of inserted programming is mainly for the less developed and awakened humans coming here. The more aware specimens will get the direct invitations and knowledge of what have been done to them and in this no artificial feeling of belonging is needed. We are aware of the manipulation of the common man and woman in this but we are also aware of the limited time we have to extract the correct type of genetics from the other areas of the program due to the dismantling of it within the next 5 years.

With the genetic affinity to the modified Australian program our goals are achieved in a non-volatile way and do not go against the restrictions of the original flows of energy and transfer of genetics. Our main program is run by genetic and energetic affinity rules as it should be, and as it is all over the other realities of this sector and since most of the invitees are foreign to the upgraded program and hold no energetic or genetic affinity to it, due to the distortion codes, we have to instigate the needed changes at arrival.

When the invitee has accepted the initial modification, and shown prospect with this modification other modifications are offered and put into play, creating the full correct integration of the Australian program expanding outside the borders of the country. This means that our citizens can travel in the other areas of the world without being affected by the energies of the remaining decaying levels of the old construction.

Of course, the genetics modifications will have ramifications for the overall soul progressions and many of the old souls have chosen to leave before the new reality was instigated. It is our hope that the souls that choose to stay in our program, and in this participate to generate the system, can accept to continue their soul progression from that level of energetic affinity.

For some it will be an upgrading; for others, a step down on the evolutionary ladder. However, we will do our very best to assist the higher evolved souls with tasks inside the new reality set up that suit their progression level. It is in our interest to maintain and develop the old soul type although we, as a scheme, have moved into another type of evolution.

Freedom to leave is always a choice since no soul can be contained if the energetic and genetic structures are changed into another type of systemic affinity. As the new human race develops, we will provide this information of how to do so as it is a natural law that the souls, which have completed their progression cycles, have the opportunity to return to the dyadic levels of the evolutionary cycles.

No soul can be contained against its will, when in full capacity. Thus, the ones inside our program that choose to integrate their full soul potentials, can do so. It will benefit the overall creation of the restored reality and re-instate the original structure of this system. Naturally we hope that these races will remain here and assist in the full reconstruction of basic levels of this scheme. And of course, if we see the need to keep these races in our new humanity project for a period of time, we will see to that the genetic composition is not altered too quickly. It is in our interest to recreate this system and if too many races pull out, then that cannot take place; hence the restrictions of outflow.

Implementation Programs

The implementation programs are the follow up programs instigated to modify and adjust emotional and mental capacity after the first genetic modification on the organic level.

Most invitees have huge amounts of distortion codes in their fields and on a genetic level due to the repetitive circulations inside the old world construction, being put into organic unsuitable forms.

When they come into the new humanity program, they are placed in areas where their emotional and mental capacity is in affinity with other humans, placed there for the same purpose. These emotional and mental managed areas, of emotional and mental similarity, set the stage for the first utilization of the genetic modification done at arrival. Humans around the invitee will reflect the issues to be worked with on that stage. Of course, this does not mean that our citizens will have to move every year or so, but adaptability is part of the new reality and if the majority of that city lift up energetically, then the incoming new citizens will change accordingly.

The home and the area around the house, as well as the ones that live in it, and around it, is part of the energetic setting with the purpose of developing the emotional and mental fields and clear out old programming. It can be seen as a hologram within the main new humanity program, where reality changes according to the lessons that have to be learned and dealt with. All events in the new humanity program are part of the process of learning to handle the energies of the main program from the perspective of the original mind-set of the races living here in ancient times.

The accommodations, in which the invitees are living in, hold the set of challenges needed for that emotional and mental processing. In the progression of the invitee and the development, the challenges are to be found in that area, house or setting on an interactive level with the surroundings. These challenges will continue until there is harmony and balance on all levels of that hologram, i.e. that all emotional and mental content is transformed and mastered.

When the physical reality – hologram set up – is under full control – from eating habits, to physical training, success in the community service function and the ability to generate more energy as well as unfolding all the rules of amplification and human interaction to perfection and the individual can manage all energies in the provided hologram, emotionally and mentally and by will change it into the needed level to work with, to continue the chosen progression in full balance with the main program, the first inner levels of progression challenges will surface.

The inner challenges are not of human or outer nature but will all lead to a higher awareness of mind and consciousness, enabling the genetics to unfold into the now mastered human body and its surroundings. These challenges will be focused on developing the overlay genetics and their ability to link up to the imprinting that is contained in them, unfolding their content into the human mind and energy fields. There the remains of the genetic personality traits can be transformed and cleared of their distortion codes using the same structure of transformation utilized in the process of mastering the holographic play outs.

From this understanding and clearing of stellar energies and distortions, the next stage of the implementation programs is to focus on the soul integration as well as reviving the original mind-set of the first races that thrived here. Events, human interaction and similar holographic settings will be provided to accommodate the integration process, although at this stage most is done by the free will of the individual.

Alterations will be provided to the new humans that do not hold the correct genetic lineage in genetic integration adding the synthetic and replicated genetic structure to unfold the correct consciousness.

Through these three steps the new humans will upgrade and become full aware of the challenges to be managed and mastered and in this become a full aware and awake human race progressing in their own right and by their own power.

I have accepted the assistance of this parallel ancient Sirian race but under the understanding that I, as a free agent, only work with them as equals, although most of the time they of course assist me in cleansing out my distortions and technology in my system, so that I can activate my true genetics and consciousness, I came into this system with.

There are many other races here too. The remaining races and the new incoming ones. I do not collaborate with all of them, but we have made agreements into which we can exist side by side in this world, all with the intention of building our version of a future, we want to unfold here.

The Residing Races

Who are the residing races?

These are first and foremost the remaining colonizers from other parallel or similar worlds, having lived here in different pockets of energy and information, in our world.

It is important to grasp that our world, i.e. our “planet Earth” is not a planet but a world. It is energy and information expressed as fields, waves and units. It has no entity attached to it.¹⁰ Our world is an engineered set up, using the existing potential energies and principles to generate nature, areas, space etc. And in this set up are different layers of energy and information expressing the lifeforms in different forms using fields, waves and units to do so. We are all to exist here, humans, animals, trees and aliens to name a few, taking care of the energies inside of us and outside of us; taking the responsibility of creating a better future and a better world.

So, the remaining races are:

- 1) Humanity. Yes, us.
- 2) Colonizers, which have chosen to stay, also called Clans since they live in clans of same genetic racial setup. They will for a while continue to exist in their pockets of reality, their worlds as well as expressing themselves into the human world. They will, in time, integrate themselves into the human vessel and leave behind their other reality vessels as the energies of the human world elevates to its natural state.

¹⁰ In my opinion, all ideas of Gaia etc are distorted information in the same way as the idea of God.

- 3) Otherworldly races having created human vessels for the purpose, being here to assist or transform the current world to fit the parameters of the other worlds, we are part of, in our system and parallel ones.
- 4) Old races that will not take on human form and will remain in their pockets of reality, partly being part of their own worlds and ours.
- 5) New races that will not take on human form and will remain in their bridging fields and code streams, created for the work here, mainly being part of their own system and only visiting ours to do work here.

We will have to learn to exist side by side with them all. Some we will collaborate with, others we will make truces with and others we will accept is here and not interfere with, as they do not interfere with us and our projects.

But most important we must learn the laws of these races, so we can navigate in our joint world without trespassing or transgressing their laws. Only then can we expect them to do the same with us.

The Laws and Rules

The colonizing and otherworldly races exist in their universes through laws. They have many laws and rules, and they are the expression of the original laws and principles of the worlds, they come from. Most of them differ from the laws of this world and the original principles of this system.

Thus, in the work with regaining our full capacity as a human race, we have to remember the original laws and the use of their laws is one way to get this information. Learning to collaborate with the colonizing and otherworldly races is a mastery in itself.

We will collaborate until the ones we work with are not working to accommodate our best interest and then we stop working with them, or show them how to do and then see if they respond to it and adjust, and from that we can continue the work. All of this is a mastery of energy, knowledge and use of our genetics in the correct way. The more we learn about their ways and habits, the easier it will be for us to claim a jurisdiction and right to exist here on our terms, using our reality as it was supposed to. In other words, we will have to learn to play by their rules to get a pocket or a territory from them, since they hold the jurisdiction of all the other layered realities. Humans only have the right to the current world, as things are now, so the awakening is also a process of claiming our system back or learn to live with the races that are here.

Let me use one example of the twist of one of the original laws of our system:

The law of the one, setting the example for the many and by this, seeds this as an option into the grids. This means that it just takes one fully drowsed down person to seed the option and possibility for that expression into our world. It also goes with one person setting the example of full human progression and higher awareness. Then it becomes possible for all. All actions in our world and beyond have to be seen in that light. It only takes one to change a whole world and then a group to follow that example. Thus, it only takes one person to exemplify the correct energy and consciousness, and from that others can follow. And it only takes one to seed the downfall of us all.

This law was purposely distorted to give room for the idolatry of saviors, making one person do all the work for the many. And in this expecting the savior to take care of things, where the many did not act upon the shown but instead acted as procrastinators, postponing their own work and responsibilities, or becoming a blind follower with little to none actively participation of their own progression, thinking that studying the teachings of their teacher and savoir would make them holy and good.

Naturally we all must walk the talk and do the work in action, in words and in deeds because consciousness only unfolds if it is used and integrated into the body, using the multilayered energies and from that, the building of the dyad aka the sphere of consciousness and energy from which eternal life can begin in all universes.

Of course, the lesser developed races think that they can make one human do their progression work and from that be able to replicate the genetics of that one human into the rest of their race. That will not work either. All residing races must go into a vessel of their own, and do the progression from a lowered ordered system and into the higher to gain the full potentials of eternal life.

Development of consciousness by the use of energy - to ensure progression and continued existence - has to be done as the act of participation in full integration into the vessel, learning the mastery of the energies of this reality and from that get the gift of eternal life as the grid itself begins to expand its energies into the vessel of the one that works with it. When this happens, the consciousness units can begin to expand too and in that generate the fields of waves and units around and in the vessel, from which consciousness can connect to the higher ordered energies of the system it is part of.

A reality field and its expressions into organic forms are intrinsically interwoven and only the one that does the work, will get the gift of progression and eternal life in the future universes.

The original races here assisted and helped each other to grow and progress, so that no one would be left behind. And in that they used the law of the one for the benefit of the many, creating the possibilities for the others to follow. It was a joint effort to enable one to progress to the next level, and then the one, that had achieved that, amplified and assisted a group to get to the same level.

And that group of people assisted and amplified others and so forth until the entire race had reached the same level of progression. No one moved on until all had reached the same level, and then, using the free will, transferred to the new realities where they could either teach what they had learned and assist other races, or choose to begin anew in a new reality, learning to master the multilayered energies and principles, building more into their dyadic structure.

In that, all humans can become seeders of new realities if they learn to master the reality, they are part of.

Now, all residing and incoming races want to negotiate, including the high positioned races. We have to remember that, and that most of the races here want to talk, give information, trade and gain something because they have the impetus to do so. That follows the natural principles of interaction and mirroring to ensure the highest possibility rate for all. In this system, having regressed its natural base to a certain extent, all the original laws are now expressed in getting as much out of the trade as possible. All remaining races transgress and regress due to this and since it is unnatural to the original set up, which is to progress and evolve, they cannot avoid interfering and working with us as we begin to activate. They are bound by the very same laws as we are; just in the regressed version.

We can use that to our advantage, but remember that trading with these races is a matter of genetics and energy, and in this case our own. It is therefore a trade with high risks and much at stake.

These laws and rules are unfolded when we begin the activation of our higher ordered systems and the imprints of the holographic-organic genetics of the previous forms we had in other systems, stored in the energy system.

When we activate our higher ordered systems, the energies and the holographic-organic genetics in our energy system will pull us in the direction of the residing races, we have genetic and conscious affinity with. This is called the law of affinity.

All holographic-organic genetics work in clusters of energy and similarity. As we unfold our holographic-organic genetics from this and other systems, we are pulled to the races here that match them and that can be very challenging because they can see what we used to be, but we have barely discovered that yet and they will work with you, communicate with you as if you were that version of you, stored in the higher levels of your current human form. And if you do not respond, as the higher version you used to be, they will try to manipulate. They simply cannot help it.

The Business Agreement and the Declaration of Sovereignty and Freedom made on behalf of all of us, doing this work, are to be found at the end of this book, setting the intentions in your field so that these races know what you want from them.

So, Then What?

For now, we are confined inside the current type of reality, at least for the next 5-7 years, after which it will be determined how this reality field is going to proceed inside our scheme.

I want to lift the work, we are to do, up to a higher ordered level and look at it from a higher awareness perspective and not from the lower ordered human angle. We can only truly understand and work with our reality, and the progression of ourselves, if we push our awareness into a higher form implemented into a lifestyle, where the priority is to work on progression of consciousness and the learning process of how to master our holographic-organic genetics inside this reality.

From a higher ordered perspective, it does not matter what type of system we are in. All systems, and schemes, are equally good and places to learn how to master energy. The triadic structure progresses by entering different systems with different forms of energy.

A system can be called a school for the triadic forms where they learn to play by the rules of that system and from the set of rules, learn how to administer and work with the energies of that system.

We have deliberately progressed and regressed many times. Many of us, the old races, prefer to go into less harmonious systems to develop our skills as masters of energy, and the ability to transform and transmute energy there.

This is always a challenge, and we find solutions to this challenge, which in this system is to work with the 3rd, 4th, 5th and 6th world type of energy and consciousness, as well as their remaining races, now in the process of being integrated into the current human form.

Declaration of Sovereignty and Freedom

I do not do this agreement on my own behalf but on the behalf of others that are to stand up for their freedom and sovereignty. We stand united in our joint progression and thus this declaration is not done from selfish purposes but on behalf of a race, a reality and a universe to ensure the best growth potentials for us all.

I do this declaration to reset and to ensure the natural balance for my entire system, so that it may heal and re-balance into the correct developmental and progression state and with that, the races that live here may heal and re-balance into their correct progression state too.

I do this declaration on the behalf of all future and current races, beginning the real progression work for all implicated in this system, being here in this time and space. With this, I take the responsibility for my own progression as a free and sovereign human, as the first of many. I do this for myself, so that others can do this too.

This declaration and the acceptance of this from the residing races in all forms and versions, is a given. We are all to learn to work together and the first step is that all accepts this declaration as a natural way of existence. We co-exist and we do not exploit each other in any ways or forms.

In this I declare:

The goal of my inner and outer work is the complete activation of my full capacity into my energy system, my holographic-organic genetics and current vessel to achieve my full capacity in all layers of my existence, and with this align to all my potentials.

I am not doing this work to enable any faction, race, clan, group or affiliation to take use of my energy or holographic-organic genetics – from this or other systems - for any reasons or purposes instated by these factions, using old unknown agreements of assistance to do so.

I will not in any ways or forms supplement the artificial, organic or inserted creations attached to me, or any other creature or entity exploiting my current form for their own misinformed understandings of any rights to do so. Whatever agreement the former participants of this reality may have done on my behalf are hereby annulled and do not stand for my current form, other versions of my form or other re-creations of my form and link up to it.

I hereby declare sovereignty of my form and any other forms of my vessel, energy system and holographic-organic genetics. With this, I will get the information on how to delete all former misuse of my energy system and my holographic-organic genetics, here, there and everywhere, so that I get full control of all that I am and express in this reality and beyond.

I will not participate in any forms of ongoing, outdated or new projects with my vessel, my energy system, my holographic-organic genetics and my consciousness. I hereby declare full sovereignty of my current vessel, my energy system, my holographic-organic genetics and my full capacity consciousness.

I work to develop my vessel, my energy system, my genetics and my full capacity consciousness, and in that I earn all rights of the energy produced as well as all developing of all types and forms of holographic-organic genetics inserted into me. I hereby declare full ownership of all that is in my current vessel, my energy system, my holographic-organic genetics and my full capacity consciousness, and from that I can do with this as I see fit.

I hereby free myself from all contracts, real or invented, contrived or accepted, false or reversed, and in this enable my current, past and future vessel, its energies, its consciousness, its holographic-organic genetics, its emotions and its mind to fully and freely make my own choices of freedom and sovereignty of what type of evolution I want to participate in. I hereby declare full freedom and annulment of all contracts for my current vessel, my energy system, its energies, its mind and emotions, all my holographic-organic genetics and my full capacity consciousness.

My work is not done to bridge me into any alien or higher reality projects but I do it to ensure that the work I am to do here, will reach its fullest completion.

Naturally there will be no energy or holographic-organic genetics misuse from this moment on. There will be no harvesting or replication, copying, scanning or interference in any ways or forms of my current vessel, my energy system, its energies, its mind and emotions, my holographic-organic genetics and my full capacity consciousness. There will be no more use of my vessel, energy system, its energies, its mind and emotions, my genetics and my full capacity consciousness. This goes for all layers of my existence.

There will be no more insertion of new or old, foreign or for this system known technology. All inserted technology must be removed at once. This goes for all layers of my existence.

The work I do from now on, will free me entirely from all factional work and inclusions, giving me my full right to be a free and sovereign human in this system, on this planet and in this reality on all levels of its set up.

My work will ensure that all the natural progression features will be re-instated into my current vessel, my energy system, its energies, mind and emotions, my holographic-organic genetics and my full capacity consciousness and that all energies, and whatever I need for this work of repair and re-instatement, will come my way, in terms of securing all needs as well as higher ordered code streams, activation sequences and all the progression methods available on this planet in this system. There will be no more restriction energy or technologies imposed unto me in any ways and there will be no more interfering with me.

I am totally free to do the progression I choose to set for myself and the life I choose for myself, no matter what that entails. All that I choose will be provided to me.

That is the declaration of sovereignty and freedom for myself and others doing the same level of work and it must be honored and respected due to its origin and purpose for the good of the many and not for the few. In this upholding and honoring all the laws of this system. This agreement will cover all ongoing and future projects for all implicated that choose to participate in the same type of work.

And with this declaration I hereby claim, retract and take back any releasement codes, attachment points or connection points connecting me to any programs, hidden agendas, emplaced projects, agreements made on my behalf, wrongfully imposed contracts as well as ancient agreements not to be upheld anymore since these races are gone. This goes for all layers of my existence.

I hereby stand free and sovereign.

Business Agreement

Now, I have made an agreement with the colonizing and otherworldly races and the ones that want to participate in the human world. The clan members and individuals, which choose to do so, are typically positioned very low in their hierarchy of their race.

The original races developed their civilizations through joint effort and horizontal community setups. However, the remaining races within the clans typically use the hierarchical structure using the lower levels to expedite the evolution of the higher. In other words; the lowest level is providing the higher levels with energy and genetics, working to evolve only few of the races.

Many of the remaining races have attempted to undo this, and have failed in the process, now suffering the insertion into different pockets of lower ordered energy in our reality, where they are controlled until their holographic-organic genetics burn out, as well as part of the harvesting of genetics that has unfolded here to sustain their higher ordered members of their race. Hence, the change of this is not a simple task and demands a high level of diplomacy and respect for the hierarchical setup of the remaining races. I have been working with that for a very long time and this attempt to make a business agreement with the clans that are not working with the incoming races but who wants to continue to work here on their own, using their parts of the new construction under the Curators, we are part of. To be able to continue here, working in our different ways, an agreement had to be made. All remaining races used to unfold their evolutions on either the war pillar or the trade pillar. Since warring is a matter of great losses in terms of genetics, magic, energy use and mastery of energy attacks, most prefer to do the trade pillar instead. Hence, the business agreement with the councils of the remaining aces.¹¹ This agreement is an attempt to create a new form of trade in this world, and beyond, and made in agreements with the old races under the Cross, i.e. the Clan Councils all incl., the Orion Councils all incl. and the members of the hidden Societies all incl.

The Sirian Councils are accepting this agreement but awaits its results before actively endorsing it considering that they have already made their arrangements of what they perceive to be a better future for humanity and the races here. However, the acceptance is $\frac{3}{4}$ in full and thus a fact, and for all factions on this planet to abide and follow, if they do choose to participate in the new approach of business here. If they do not choose to participate, they will not interfere with this work and experiment in any ways or forms. The Councils will ensure that. We all need new ways to do things here and that is agreed by all members.

We do business to ensure the highest progression rate for all involved, according to the pillar they have chosen to do evolution on.

This assurance is not achieved by one, but by the joint effort of all involved. This is an alliance, where all involved participate and add equally to the result, not stealing, taking, replicating, copying, lying, deceiving or play dirty by magic, parasites, technology, holographic inserts, mind-control, telepathic scrambling, emotional attack or other mind-, emotional, physical, or energetic actions or retaliation amongst us, themselves or others for trying to do new. There cannot be retribution of members trying to create bridges between their factions and ours. There cannot be actions taken against us, in any ways of forms, which are trying to do new and reach out for a better world, with new arrangements of living.

¹¹ When you learn to work with the remaining races a lot can be achieved. But is has to be on their terms following their laws, and bending these into the real laws of our system. One could argue that we should just war them, but since these races are more advanced than us, we must be smart and diplomatic. We will get further with that for now.

We do business to enable a better future to unfold here and in this our observance will be focused on:

- 1) That we engage in alliances to develop ourselves to achieve a higher progression rate, i.e. a higher energetic state allowing for the full potentials to unfold into this current vessel and by this begin the implementation of the natural system of this world and its lifeforms in this reality. In this we acknowledge that this is a progression system, based upon higher human principles and evolutions by advanced races, and in this we honor their project and will work to achieve what they started to complete our own evolution here, following the laws and rules of this system.
- 2) We accept that all business, exchange and self-mastery are to be aligned to the principles and rules of this system, and in this relearn the natural ways of progression.
- 3) That we do exchange of goods and commodities, including knowledge, to ensure a higher progression rate in others to achieve the common goal of a better future, where all involved can live and thrive under the same goal of a joint collaborative world of many races.
- 4) That we use the common energies for the good of the many, and in that adjust our own use and demand to the energies at hand, as well as ensuring that our exchange and commerce do not affect negatively, or harm, the energy currents in others, in our world or in ourselves in any ways and by our actions.
- 5) We work together to build an energetic platform, in our commerce, that ensures the highest potential outcome for all involved.
- 6) There will only be a fair exchange rate of energy, equally to the members involved. Hence, in cases of a higher energetic member dealing with a lower, the exchange rate should accommodate that difference and not be used as a mean to steal, rob, take, copy, snatch or tap energy from the lower positioned, or from the higher for that matter. There will be no foul or dirty play in any meetings between members.

- 7) That we ensure a common platform from where business can unfold, in a peaceful environment where diplomacy and correct use of energy will assure a platform from where we can work towards a better future for all, so we all have a place to thrive, expand and exist.
- 8) That we work to ensure a common place for us all, in spite of our cultural, technological and racial differences, as well as differences in energetic and holographic-organic capacity.

Should this arrangement fail among the lesser educated members, and the lesser hierarchical positioned members of our communities (clans), retaliation is allowed and expected. In worst case scenario; seen as an act of war. Commerce is therefore preferred as the correct solution and diplomacy is expected from all involved. Should intricate situations arise, then this is solved between the highest factions (council members) of the involved parties, from which correct retribution and correction is arranged.

This business agreement stands between the majority of the factions here and should be honored and respected as such.

- a) In terms of a better future it is naturally up to the free will of the individual to interpret what that implies and thus it is up to the faction and its elders to decide what their better future is. In this, members of the other communities can decide if they want to join that community and standards of a future, and partition for membership, if wanted.
- b) All requests of membership should be considered in acceptance and with discretion to avoid harm from the opposing factions, or the factions the member wish to leave.

Discretion is part of all business done on this level and amongst the factions present here as a standing rule made by the factions a long time.
