Seeding a New Awareness – not giving the answers

The world is changing. Humanity is changing. Many challenges are ahead of us as the other planes of reality come our way. For people, centered in the everyday human mindset, these changes will not be noticeable other than in the forms of new sciences and governance, and for others, having prepared for this for years and years, the tide is changing and the wave of energies of the other realities and worlds are affecting our energy system in profound ways. This will open for new levels of perception and understanding of what it means to be human.

This is not just a battle for the continuation of humanity; it is just as much a battle for the continuation of our higher order possibilities as an advanced civilization, ready to boarder the worlds to come. To get there, humanity must learn to work as a planetary team, expressing our diversity as a chosen tool to reach the absolute potentials of what we were meant to be, and yet recognizing that we are equals because we work for the same goals, and in that we support each other in the joint goal of progression of awareness, our original consciousness abilities and with the goal of generating a better world for all implicated. We must overcome our focus on the differences and focus on the tasks at hand and how to solve these.

We must progress and activate our full potentials, and do the needed work to be able to change our world.

Many good people have worked with the alien agenda, and the deeper implications of these intersecting parallel system races. However, we must go even further into the exploration of the otherworldly sciences, their laws of reality and reality dynamics to really get what is going on here. In my opinion, we cannot apply our sciences to the other worlds, and not until we implement that understanding will we be left in the dark. Much more to learn and much more to investigate, and we are already lightyears behind.

There are so many bids to what the alien agenda is about. Perhaps it is time to investigate it from the angle of direct communication – knowing that manipulation and advanced telepathic skillsets are needed – would be a better approach instead of the current method, where we try to understand via what we have observed? This method has its pitfalls, one of them being our innate need to project how we perceive the world unto their realities. We must see things as they truly are. Not what we want them to be.

It begins with our abilities to communicate with the other worlds, and with that, the abilities to investigate within realms of different reality dynamics, laws of energy and reality sciences. Naturally, we also must learn what is the content of our own minds and energy fields, since the exploration of the other worlds is done via the higher order senses and faculties of mind and energy, as well as the ability to navigate, perceive, interpret, and comprehend what we sense, see, and encounter, via our energy system.

On the Discourse of the Hidden Realities

The first fact is that most do not know the full extent of the hidden realities and the alien reality programs, although many has looked at the diverse theories on this topic. Nevertheless, it must be understood that most of this information is distorted deliberately. And, it must also be taken into consideration that these concepts and ideas are based upon the notions that we are dealing with humans like you and me, and not realizing that these groups of in-program humans are part of something hidden, an inner reality, secret for most with programs beyond their wildest fantasies. Of course, everybody has heard of the spiritual worlds but that is a sort of a distorted concept of a semi-human inner reality where the souls go and not a huge inner reality inhabited by many off world humans and humanoids from other parallel universes, having used our world for their own benefit, production, and exploitation.

The breakdown of the old hierarchal and hidden reality programs is beginning to show on the outside, in the forms of environmental changes and the collapse of the cultural institutions and ideologies. It is so, because as no one maintains the outer jurisdictions of the old density 2 middle domain (4D-6D) races, the leftovers are in free fall between the remaining off world races – often not so smart as the Elite, they used to be controlled by – and the other groups of exploiters trying to accrete what they can from our system, and transfer it (or link it up) to their own systems. We could call these groups for scavengers or tomb raiders. This level of chaos will rise in the years to come, and only the resilient ones amongst humanity will prevail in these future settings.

Thus, we have an inner world in steep downfall and competition of the remaining clans and factions, trying to get as much of the old trade systems as possible in the hidden realities, and this reflects into the outer world as well. The density 3 races inner domain (7D-9D) and their new operations are the challenges yet to come. Right now, they are positioning themselves, chewing their way in bit by bit, and are working via the human technologically oriented groups inside our reality. They have sided up with, in other words, the many groups that are pro-transhuman agenda.

Humanity will go on with business as usual, unknowingly, and ignorant of the hidden realities until the big issues are so BIG that they cannot be denied, such as the weather modification programs that automatically power on, upheld by alien technology, because nobody turned this off when they left, leading to weather disturbances and imbalances. The weakening, and later collapse, of the planetary magnetic field because the core technologies are deteriorating. Or the density 2 programs of human genome modification, or the remaining 5D cubes of the 1950-1980 military projects etc. The list goes on.

Humanity will proceed with their normal lives, working in companies and doing their jobs, focusing on driving a business run on monetary principles of exploitation, creating consumer markets where people can buy and sell their goods, whether people need these goods or not. It is an artificially generated market based upon an implemented idea of the need for goods and luxury, more than quality of life, the ability to develop our consciousness and learning to handle energy. Tools, that will be the most important of all in the years to come. What good does a materialistic good do when the technologies upholding our world is falling apart, and with that, what upholds the human programs?

So, What Are We to Do?

Is it embarking on the ascension programs, where we are promised to get back to a soul state in a fluffy utopia world based upon outdated spiritual principles? Are we to be cling on to the hope of other races taking us to the 5D? Or are we to grow as a race into a consciousness-based race, having the ability of telepathy, influence on the hidden technologies, the ability to work with holographic-radiation-vibration energies in a scientific way understanding reality holograms, semi-to fully artificial reality constructions based upon holographic principles of possibilities and probabilities (not quantum), code streams and code sheets? Working to become able to communicate with the other human races placed in universes parallel to ours from mind to mind, sharing complex information as packages of energy and field sciences?

The HAL Academy New Reality Sciences

HAL Processes to Full Disclosure

Being a true human has nothing to do with spirituality or being soul infused. The true human-humanoids of our solar system used to be highly advanced races, building constructions such as the Pillar Project, into which different types of engineered vessels could learn to administer energy and consciousness. This universal structure used to have 12 realities, reengineered to each hold 5 domains with technologies and developmental programs, of which 4 domains would be the reality fields, or play grounds, of development of consciousness potentials via the transformational processes of energy, and the 5th domain would be the exit reality to other systems.

This universal structure, as it is now, is thus assisted in its progression dynamics using technology and developmental programs. The goal was to assist large groups of the humanoid races in their endeavor to master and develop their outdated code systems and energy system configurations. We must conclude that this project has failed. It was never meant to continue to the degree it has.

As I see it, we face the following challenges, which we are to step up to:

- Where does humanity, as a race, belong in terms of a future among other universal human races?
- What needs to be developed to get humanity able to achieve that?
- What needs to be learned?
- Does the current humanity have the skills for that?

We must look at the resources we have now. The world, we are living in, and most humans that are barely half up to speed with the worlds, they soon are to become part of and in this, only a portion of humanity is ready for the work of developing consciousness and energy to be able to face up to the future challenges.

As always, this is a work for the few. This is not a work that can be proclaimed as a known issue, i.e. the still running technologies of the alien races, slowly dismantling the outer world in manipulated business programs, developmental programs, bending and seeding the human minds into these programs being overseen by technologies, artificial control systems and semi-conscious technologies being programmed with all from religion to economics (such a semi-conscious control devise is called a source and it holds the genetics of the humans it controls), and the humans not knowing how to operate, and shut this down.

The worst enemy of humanity is not the current childish world leaders, not really knowing how to run a world but only how to promote themselves in ways that make people like them, to be a bit harsh, taking care of our world in an old setup. Or business leaders that only know how to exploit the resources with the goal of making more money. No, the worst enemy is the alien inserted technologies, the mess left by the aliens and the genetic human projects that are breaking down in most of present-day humanity.

The Alien Technologies

These technologies are based upon semi-consciousness link up. In the outer worlds, we are barely up to speed with artificial intelligence, network thinking processes and robotic technology. The current forms of computers, Wi-fi technologies etc. are stone age technologies in terms of the alien technology that were implemented into the existing human advanced technologies and developmental programs (the real solar system technology to run the worlds). All run by electric energy and machines to be touched, or controlled by other machines.

The HAL Academy New Reality Sciences

HAL Processes to Full Disclosure

The original solar system technology run on genetic programming and they are linked to the developmental programs behind the organic vessel. The organic vessel, to be utilized in our system, is engineered, and holds holographic-radiation (light) and vibration (sound) fields, with code systems of consciousness and energy. These generate a multilayered energy system into which different developmental programs and technologies can be connected, for good and for ill, to lift or decrease the progression rate. These technologies can be utilized to maintain, upgrade, and unfold the code sheets, transforming the electro-chemical milieu of the current version of the human body and hence the perception level, brain, and cellular structure to enable more capacity for consciousness progression.

At the same time, in the original Pillar Project progression programs, the integrated consciousness came from the inner human, still present in the hidden real worlds or workstations only integrating a portion of the real human consciousness and energy into the outer world simulation vessels. These inner humans would then oversee and assist the outer version of themselves in inner guidance and communication. Sometimes, in some of the worlds, a sub-consciousness personality was integrated into the engineered vessel and the inner human would then let the vessel develop on its own, only overseeing it from time to time, to develop in unforeseen ways. Our world was primarily run that way.

Now, these workstations were shut down eons ago, as the old human races shifted into other universes and the developmental programs only run on a very low rate of progression compared to the original ones, and these low progression programs were interfered with by the incoming humanoid alien races after WW2. And on top of that, the old technologies, keeping our reality running, have been messed with.

The Mess of the Aliens

The aliens have left a bit of a mess for us to clear up. They have not shut down their technologies, such as the artificial weather control programs and chemtrails (using holographic planes that can go in and out of manifestation), the hidden technologies controlling the human mindset and the inventions, humans were supposed to do in the near-future to accommodate the planned futures of the alien-human military projects. These are still in operation, leading humanity down a path where there are no leaders to lead them, no aliens to greet them and no prospected development of an alien-human reality to unfold. The technologies will run on their own, getting more and more malfunctional as the alien-human genetic template breaks down, and with it the semi-conscious control devises of the aliens, getting more and more out of control.

The Breaking Down Genetic Alien-human Templates

The post war alien-human military projects did a lot of bad engineering on the original human genetic template, messing it up with humanoid genetics, which do not go well with the human genetics. This will generate a lot of side effects into the human organism, mind and emotions as the genetics break down, begin to produce residuals, or link up to the run amok hidden alien technology and developmental programs. Now, for most this will just seem as time is going faster, that humans are getting more stressed, that the raise of aggression is due to pressure, lack of money, governmental issues or whatever. The fact is that the template structure is breaking down making these humans go volatile and irrational.

HAL Processes to Full Disclosure

Hopefully this will only be in special instances but I also know that special organizations such the new order of the ages (Annuit Coeptis Novus Ordo Seclorum for short NOA)¹ foresaw a different future in American with riots, total break down and so forth and because of this, left our planet in late 2016 instead of waiting for the 2021 date, they originally had set.

NOA has created, since WW2, their new humanity and shipped them off planet, as well as ensured that a portion of human military projects in so-called sleeper villages, in the outskirts of America, that were set to activate on their own in 2019. That did not happen due to the Orion AI attempted takeover from 2018-2021.

Activation of the inserted alien genetics, such as Pleadian-Sirian genetics were to activate and integrate into the selected humans, merging with the existing personality matrix, unfolding a new type of human with technical, educational, and scientific knowledge like the other human Pleiadian-Sirian races.

The plan was that portions of humans would activate outside the main cities, where the structures were to break down, and then these communities would become the carriers of the new planetary human genomic structure, getting ready to reconnect with the space humanity from Mars, the Moon and Jupiter around 2050.

At the same time, we have got new incoming other worldly races, eager to take over our solar system and its technology while humanity takes itself out, in ignorance, lack of knowledge and understanding of the advanced worlds they are part of. Organizations like the human-humanoid NOA and other similar post-war enhanced human projects in Europe are of course collaborating with these races, to ensure that their new type of humans get the best mentoring from the other worldly races and have a place in the new worlds under these races.²

With this, We Have:

- 1) The framework – the outlined challenges
- 2) The process – what to do (to be invented)
- 3) The expected outcome (what do we want the process to lead to?)

We must learn about our true genetic origin, learn to progress in a more organized way, upgrade and claim the options we have left, and find ways so we are not get run over by the inbuilt activation systems of the secret projects, and in that avoid the future under the new incoming races.

² I do not know who they are. To get in connection to them, I must integrate their consciousness genetics and I do not want to do that. I have had enough of interference into my energy system and consciousness from off worlders working with the humanoid races the last 10 years (not by my own free will). The new races are bound to be humanoid-human races from the future, probably the off spring of the alien-military human projects such as NOA and the enhanced human children, which can be categorized into four groups to re-seed the Westernized parts of the world: The Neo-Nordics (sciences), the Neo-Adamics (the breeders and workers), the Neo-Aryans (the leaders) and the Neo-Atlanteans (military-tech).

Humans must step up to their full potentials in daily energy work, learning to deal with the technology they have got inserted and the alien humanoid genetics to be cleared out.

Humans must develop out of their current belief systems and develop a new type of mind from which the hidden realities can be perceived and worked with.

The Big Questions Are

- 1) Who, of the old type of human genetic structure, is ready to do this work and what it entails in the learning process of the hidden realities, the clans, the insectoids, the technologies, and the code sheets linked to diverse technology of which some are difficult to shut down without the inner sight and sensing, and not in our favor connecting us to the humanoid alien automatic devices?
- 2) This technology is everywhere in our homes, in public places etc. because its non-local and follows the genetics of the human.
- 3) And how do we begin the work of teaching these sciences to humans with dormant brain capacity?
- 4) What is to be learned to shift the mindset out of the outdated spiritual belief systems into a highly advanced technological hidden reality?
- 5) How are we to teach humans what they hold in their energy system, unknowingly of alien genetics and technologies, going off as holograms with a genetic-energy package affecting our energy systems in a negative way, as our reality lifts into the hidden realities?
- 6) How are we to teach humans that they are engineered to be weapons to take out the old type of humans (the Supersoldier programs under the Sirian-Orion-Zeta races all over the world), having inserted organic genetics break down systems to affect other humans.
- 7) How are we to manage the old reversed code sheets in humans from e.g., the 4th cycle human programs, holding holographic magic, reversing the code sheets in other humans.
- 8) How are we to meet the new engineered hybrid children, engineered to activate on their own. And in this present an awareness, we barely can keep up with? Worst case scenario a world led by children, with little to none empathy or understanding of human emotions and behavior.
- 9) How are we to change the existing systems running our primitive current world into systems where the new humans are part and the old type of humans (us) can live side by side?
- 10) Are we to let the alien technologies go into a full break down of environment and structures, leading to a premature resetting in the years to come?
- 11) And how do we face up to the energetic challenges this will bring about?

Humans must learn to understand that other humans are not their enemy but fellow humans, which have been manipulated, re-engineered and made into something they have no control over. Or has got insectoid technology, all from artificial bugs to possessing entities, attached to them. We must help each other to become harmless and learn to deal with the hidden programs, genetics, and technologies, put into these humans to take out the humans that could make changes in the world, activating the original human genetics.

We must face that the next global war is not an outer war to come, it is already here, hidden in the code sheets of selected humans carrying targeted genetics structures to take out the remaining original human genetics that could activate the original technology and in that regain control of our solar system.

The HAL Academy New Reality Sciences

We must face that the breaking down is orchestrated by humanoid alien dismantling technology and NOT part of an ascension process and only if we master energy, our own energy system and are observant of the effect we have on others, can we get through this as a race.

Solar System Dimensional Bridges

The dimensional bridges are intersection points of dimensions and densities, i.e., where dimensions and densities cross or intersect each other. The intersection points of a density and its gridworks (dimensions) can be seen as the position, where one dimension or a whole density shifts into a new one.

Each intersection point therefore generates a dimensional bridge (aka a star gate) due to the differences in dimensions and the densities they stem from. Because of the dissimilarities in dimensions and in the features of the densities, the dimensional bridges differ from each other. Hence the dimensional bridges do not have the same facilities of enabling:

1. Entry (only able to enter a dimension).
2. Exit (only able to leave a dimension).
3. Exit & entry (able to enter and leave a dimension).
4. Connection (the bridges are used as communication devices through the genetics – this differs from telepathy, where the genetics can connect to each other due to their similarities. Telepathy is done by projection of consciousness into the radiation field of the one holding the identical genetics, be it copies or from the same racial generation of genetics).
5. Transformation (is only achievable when the energy system has developed the genetics and is done with the dimension and thus elevates, or has integrated TEGs enabling the same thing to take place).
6. Dimensional shift (can be done by insertion of advanced TEGs enabling this, or by manipulation of the energy system, done by the individual having full control over the energy system, the integrated genetics, and the upper template and from here shift their organic form from one level to another).

The use of the dimensional bridge is determined by the integrated genetics of the level one energy system. The integrated genetics are for their part determined by the possibilities of the template genetics and these can be soul genetics or TEGs, or both.

Many TEGs are engineered specifically to enable the humanoid form to utilize the dimensional bridges in one of the six variations. Other TEGs are engineered to enable the energy system to access the dimensional bridges, leaving the organic form temporarily behind in a hibernated state in the dimension that is left behind. Then the traveling level one energy system, with the personality intact despite the hibernated organic form, can take on another dimensional form in the visiting dimension by inserting TEGs to enable the energy system to match the new dimensional light coding.

Engineered TEGs have many functions and the most important is the dimensional bridges, especially seen in the light of the fact that most of the regressed races as well as the new stellar races are not able to utilize the dimensional bridges.

The HAL Academy New Reality Sciences

HAL Processes to Full Disclosure

Most of the dimensional bridges were generated shortly after the timeline event by the ancient stellar races and thus link up to older generations of TEGs and genetics. Given that the later stellar races have little resemblance to their ancient forefathers, the genetics in the DE1D3 humanoids have a big role to play in why we have been sealed off and utilized as we have.

The sealing off from the personality in the level one energy system, have enabled the later stellar races to utilize the dimensional bridges by temporarily borrowing (or buying) a sealed off energy system. It has also been done by harvesting the template genetics and inserting these into their energy systems (most of the foreign genetics are repulsed, but they can work fine enough for a short period granting the dimensional access) and by extracting the integrated viable genetics from sealed off energy systems, leaving the emptied level one energy system to decay in the reintegration cycles and so forth.

The extracted genetics are utilized as the core in a TEG, enabling the TEG to perform the same features that are in the extracted genetics. Thus, the harvesting and extracting of genetics must be seen in the light of the dimensional bridges too and not only as food for the dark ones. The dimensional bridges with the facilities of entry and exit are mostly utilized by organic forms, i.e., the later stellar races travelling from one dimension to another.

Bridges, where it is possible to transform energetically (shifting in and out of organic forms) are utilized by humanoids having shed off their organic form and now are positioned in the energy system with its template getting ready to take on a new organic form in another dimension, either higher or lower all depending on the quanta of the genetics. Humanoids with templates holding a higher ratio of TEGs do not need to progress their genetics into higher levels of quanta in the vibration field since they are fueled by the artificial genetics often set up to be able to unfold organic forms in a range of dimensions.

The connection facility is part of the dimensional bridges between races unfolding in the same dimension. The stellar races can connect energetically through the connecting dimensional bridge with the purpose of sharing information, goods, and similar items.

The dimensional bridges represent the humanoid races the DE1D3 can house or fuel genetically via the gridworks and the blueprints imbedded in them (the inner three races being the true DE1D3 earth humanoids that retracted to Hallow Earth and by this sealing off the three inner bridges, which link to Hallow Earth).

Together the pillars and the bridges keep the whole DE1D3 system stable. The bridges are an important part of the future scenarios given that the areas holding functional bridges can contact the other dimensions and thus are in power of all the knowledge they need to control the planet. The active dimensional bridges also prevent the areas surrounding the bridges from becoming unstable, if and when a pole shift happens.

The areas with nonfunctional bridges are to face a rough time in the future because the dimensional bridges are the last thing keeping the quantum flux field stable when the crystal pillars cannot hold the quantum flux field steady anymore. The pillars are under the process of dissolving, due to the link up to the astral barrier and astral plane, and the high level of decaying these energies are in. The light coding of the pillars is deteriorating as we speak.

HAL Processes to Full Disclosure

As the grid of the pillars dissolve the remaining coding will retract to Hallow Earth because of light coding similarity (the containing grid is gone) and the quantum flux fields of the DE1D3 will return to their original unsettled state. In this case only the dimensional bridges will keep the countries and landmasses, as we know them. All other areas will return to the morphing in and out, unless they are inhabited by citizens with a strong genetic set up being able to counteract the instability in the flux fields.

The active 3D dimensional bridge in Japan is under the control of the Japanese LWBs, holding a mix of ancient DE1D3 humanoid genetics (from the ones that were slaughtered) and avian genetics. The bridge in Japan is one of the oldest. The three bridges in the Pacific Ocean are part of the Hyperborean Isle and will be used in the rising of the landmass.
